

Television and Radio:
We've Survived

*Switcher, director, audio, and prompter
Some of many jobs we offer
Writing, talking, zooming, and streaming
The lights in your eyes while anchoring are beaming*

*Stories and shots are perfectly set
The director yells, "We have 2 minutes left!"
Everybody hustles to get every job filled
We are all universal since we are all skilled*

*We sit and wait quietly for the director to say
"Put us on in the back and over the P.A."
We do last minute reads over paper scripts
And we finally see the words leave his lips*

*"Rolling Open," floor manager says as we await
We finally calm down and situate
"3,2,1" and we're live
"Good Morning Columbus East High School," we've survived*
